

There is a distinction between a building permit and a construction site permit. Building permits are issued when a city, county, or township enforces the State of Minnesota building code. Neither Stearns County or Brockway Township issues building permits.

A construction site permit is the type of permit used in Stearns County and Brockway Township. You can obtain a construction site permit from the Environmental Services Department of Stearns County (320-656-3613). Once you fill out the application, there is a place on the form for Brockway Township to sign off on the permit. Please call Supervisor George Fiedler 320-333-2509 to make arrangements to get his signature on the form.

Please note, if you need a driveway off of a Brockway Township road, you will need to get a "road access permit". Please go to our website tab titled "Road Issues" for details. If it is off a Stearns County road you will need a permit from the county.
